Gerontological Nursing

This book makes a compelling argument for an immediate and comprehensive shift in the nursing education curriculum, from an acute care to a gerontological nursing care focus. It is important reading for deans and faculty in schools of nursing, administrators in long-term care facilities and community health agencies, and for practicing nurses caring for the elderly.

National Library of Medicine Current Catalog

This book is about seven African nurse pioneers in KwaZulu/Natal from 1920 to 2000. The author captures the early nursing activities of the 1920s to 1970 and then moves to nurses that entered the health services in the 1950s. The author also presents two nurses that worked outside South Africa i.e. did their pioneering nursing in Saudi Arabia and the United States of America. The author does not scoop nursing out of its context but creates a narrative that resonates in lived experiences in a world dominated by the Africanization of poverty, the feminization of poverty, globalization, racism and xenophobia.

African Nurse Pioneers in KwaZulu/Natal - 1920-2000

The tremendous impact of community-based nursing upon health care has educators to the height of innovation. Contributors from the Council of Associate Degree Programs (CADP) provide the "dreams they have caught in a web," demonstrating their collective vision for nursing's future.

The Web of Inclusion

This practical resource, a companion volume to "Teaching Gerontology: The Curriculum Imperative," gives educators useful tools for teaching the subject. The book includes innovative classroom and clinical activities, guides for independent student field assignments, proven strategies for effective use of print and video resources, and learning activities which develop students' ethical reasoning and sensitivity. An annotated list of articles, textbooks, videos, and films for teaching gerontologic nursing concepts is included.

Teaching in the Community

First multi-year cumulation covers six years: 1965-70.

Resources for Teaching Gerontology

Robillard, a professor of sociology at the Social Science Research Institute at the University of Hawaii, tells of his experiences and observations as he became paralyzed in mid-life due to a motor-neuron disease, and describes his methods of coping and communicating. He moves from narratives about disability to more personal reflections on anger and isolation. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR

Current Catalog

These are exciting and challenging times for gerontological nursing. Nurses are at center stage for defining and improving health care for our nation's older adults. "Ways of Knowing and Caring for the Older Adult" is a powerful resource on the broad range of issues that face nurses seeking excellence in this increasingly important specialty. Any health care professional who works with the elderly will benefit greatly from this outstanding collection of scholarly and experiential papers.

Meaning of a Disability

This is the only book on gerontological nursing available that focuses on rehabilitation. Its unique holistic approach helps nurses to ensure optimal overall health for their elderly patients. The author incorporates years of experience as a rehabilitation and gerontological nurse to present current and comprehensive management guidelines based on rehabilitation principles and concepts for a variety of settings. Emphasis is placed on post-acute, long-term care and the impact the internal and external environment has on client health.

Ways of Knowing and Caring for Older Adults

The purpose of this book is to promote geriatric content in the basic nursing curriculum in order to ensure that new nurse graduates are properly prepared to care for the growing numbers of elderly in the United States. Distinguished nurse educators review the current state of geriatrics and gerontology in the nursing curriculum, and make recommendations for fully incorporating it into the program of study. Among the contributors to this volume are Mathy Mezey, May Wykle, and Betty Friedan.

Indexes to the Publications of the National League for Nursing

This text helps students and nurses to communicate effectively with their clients, peers and other healthcare members. This edition includes expanded sections on intercultural communication, family and group communication in a new two-column format.

Gerontological Rehabilitation Nursing

Gerontological Practice for the Twenty-first Century meets the need for state-of-the-art information on practice approaches with older patients that are age-specific and empirically based, blend "micro" and "macro" views, and reflect current themes in the aging and social work fields. The book is designed as a text for students and as a professional resource for practitioners. Clearly written, the book offers an expert and comprehensive review of the current literature and focuses on issues relating to the most vulnerable older people. Gerontological Practice for the Twenty-first Century also features case illustrations throughout and brief end-of-chapter questions for review. The book has four parts. Part 1 reviews current and classic theories of aging and proposes an original framework for an integrative approach to practice with older people that incorporates both individual and policy-level interventions. The approach is based on current themes such as a life course perspective, heterogeneity, diversity, and inequality. Part 2 covers such common and important psychological problems among older individuals, as anxiety, depression, suicide, substance abuse, and dementia, and describes appropriate, evidence-based interventions. Part 3 considers the social psychological picture by discussing working with older families, end-of-life care, bereavement, and work and retirement. Part 4 focuses on core sociopolitical issues in the lives of older people: economic policy, poverty, health policy, quality-of-life concerns, and social services. Current, authoritative, and original, this single-volume gerontology resource will be of valuable use to graduate students and practitioners.

Strengthening Geriatric Nursing Education

Named a 2013 Doody's Core Title! \"This excellent book highlights the development of the nurse practitioner movement. The current state of practice is defined and the potential growth of the role is explored. The important issues influencing the continued development of the nurse practitioner role are clearly presented and reviewed. This update is needed in light of the ever-evolving healthcare arena.\" Score: 100, 5 stars -- Doody's \" there are plenty of lessons to be learned not only from the experiences and insights of these authors, but also principles and practices which they have found to be patient-centered, effective, efficient, and economical.\" -Loretta C. Ford, EdD, RN, PNP, FAAN, FAANP (From the Foreword) This fifth edition discusses the evolution and future of advance practice nursing, primarily for APN faculty and APN/NP practitioners as well as for leaders and administrators in education. Fully updated and expanded, the book comprehensively describes the historical, social, economic, and global contexts of advanced practice nursing. The team of expert contributors provides a wealth of insight into key issues of the day, such as the mechanics of financial recognition of NPs, the effects of managed care, and the globalization of advanced practice models. The new edition also presents a fresh perspective on the role of nurse practitioners in both small- and large-scale reform initiatives--such as health promotion, disease management, the rapid spread of global disease, and the diminished economic capacity of many countries to meet standards for health care. Enriched with case studies, key principles, and best practices, this book is a must-have for all those invested in the current and future status of advanced practice nursing. Key topics include: ilPublic relations strategies ilNurse-managed health centers ilAdult health and gerontology care ilBusiness, policy, and politics: success factors for practice ilGlobal health, international developments, and future challenges
